Drive Wedge Between Main Serb Army and
Anglo-French Forces

GERMANS ON OFFENSIVE

Teutons Attack Riga and Dvinsk, the Serbians and the French
in Champagne District

RUSS ATTEMPT NO ADVANCE

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The German armies which for nearly fifteen months have been continuously fighting on one front or the other are now on the offensive at three widely separated points—against Riga and Dvinsk, in Serbia and in the Champagne district of France.

In the two former places they continue to make progress but against the French their attacks of yesterday delivered to the east of Rheims met with a complete repulse as did those of the previous days.

Bulgar Attacks Most Dangerous.

While it was expected the Austro-German onslaught in the north would be the most formidable, as a matter of fact the Bulgarian attack against the Serbians through the valleys from the east is proving the most dangerous. It is now definitely settled that the Bulgars have cut the Salonika-Nish railway to the north of Vranja. This is another railway, which, branching off at Uskup, runs up the western side of Serbia, but it is a considerable way around and besides another Bulgarian army which is now approaching Kumanova, is threatening the junction at Uskup.

With the rapid sweep westward of the Bulgarians, the peoples of the allied countries are watching with keenest interest the negotiations proceeding between the governments and and the king and government of Greece. These negotiations are being carried on by the British foreign office in behalf of allies. Having failed to convince Greece it was her duty to abide by the Serbo-Greek treaty and help Serbia when she was attacked the allies have made a fresh offer to that country including the cessation by Great Britain of the island of Cyprus. This offer and an outline of possible financial help is now being considered by the Zaimis cabinet. Should the negotiations fail, it is expected Greece will be asked to demobilize or clearly define her attitude.

Conversations With Roumania Go On

Conversations also are proceeding with Roumania, which, it is understood, are in charge of the French foreign office.

Meanwhile all the belligerents realize that the best way to influence the neutral states is to win a big victory. Austria, Germany and Bulgaria are trying for this in Serbia. Germany in Courland and France, Italy in Trentino and Russia near Slonim, which roughly is the center of the eastern front, Volhynia and Galicia.

Except for the German attack in France, all these are meeting with more or less success.

Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, in his attack on Riga, has reached Olai, which is half way between Riga and Mitau and only a dozen miles southwest of the Baltic port. The German offensive extends along a front of about seventy miles and the German flanking movement on the right has reached the Dvina river, 35 miles southeast of Riga, from which point the Dvinsk-Dvina railway is being bombarded.

As an offset to this, the Russians by a rushing attack, have carried the German positions southeast of Baranovich, an important railway junction east of Slonim, on the Lida-Rovno railway, taking more than 3,500 prisoners and, according to a German official admission have continued their success on the middle Str, south of the Pripiet marshes, in Volhynia and Galicia.

Italians Report New Successes.
According to Petrograd the Russians are attempting no advance but continue to thrust at the Austro-Germans, thus doing a lot of damage. The Italian advance in Tyrol and Trentino is being carried out in conformity with the plan to relieve the pressure on Serbia. New successes are reported and it is stated that a general forward movement is about to begin.

With the exception of a few German steamers which have escaped the submarines in the Baltic, the German flag, it is declared here has virtually been driven from the seas, even the fishing fleet in the North Sea having been forced to retire as a result of activity of the British cruisers which recently captured a large number of them in retaliation for the sinking of British trawlers by German submarines.

M'Adoo Pleads for Naval Auxiliary Merchant Marine

States Steamship Service from Pacific Coast to Orient is Vital to U. S. Interests

REFER TO SEAMEN BILL

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 21.—In a plan for the creation by the government of a naval auxiliary merchant marine, William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, addressing members of the San Francisco Commercial club said today that if private capital could not afford to provide adequate steamship service between Pacific coast points and the Orient, the government should provide these facilities for the protection of United States trade and prosperity.

Secretary McAdoo was speaking with reference to the Seamen's bill and the contention of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, that the passage of the act forced them to discontinue business on the Pacific.

Service is Vital to Interests.
Mr. McAdoo said that steamship service from the Pacific coast to the Orient is vital to the interests of the United States.

"Suppose they cannot be maintained except at a loss," suggested the cabinet member. "Must we then do without these facilities? I say no. In those circumstances such service should be provided under our flag and if private capital cannot afford to provide it, then the government should provide the service and take the loss for the general welfare of all the people and for the protection of our trade and prosperity, especially when the vessels for such service become a part of the navy auxiliaries essential to the national defense."

Secretary McAdoo said that if the government shipping bill had been passed in the last congress the Pacific mail ships would not have been transferred to the Atlantic.

"The shipping board," he said, "would undoubtedly have bought those ships and kept them in the Pacific trade where they are needed and the interests of the Pacific coast would have been saved from injury."

Was Not Main Spring of Transfer.
Referring to the seamen's bill and the Pacific Mail, Mr. McAdoo said he had not been told the seamen's bill was not the main spring for the transfer of the Pacific Mail vessels.

"The Panama canal act and the fact that the present abnormal rates for cargo space on the Atlantic, which made it possible for the Pacific Mail to sell its ships at more than their real value, was, I understood, the true cause of their sale," said the secretary.

"What is the real fight in this merchant marine controversy?" asked Secretary McAdoo. "It is a fight for subsidies. Every ship owner and every ship monopolist wants subsidies. But they can't succeed because no democratic congress will pass a ship subsidy bill. The democratic party is elected by its platform against subsidies. Why not accept the only practical plan—the creation by the government of a naval auxiliary merchant marine with the money the subsidists want the government to give to them?"

ELLA FLAGG YOUNG TO RESIGN AS HEAD OF CHICAGO SCHOOLS

Blames "Persistent Discussion of Superintendency of Schools in the Daily Newspapers" for Her Determination to Quit.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—In a letter addressed today to Mrs. John MacMahon, chairman of the school management committee of the board of education, Ella Flagg Young, for six years superintendent of schools, announced that she would resign on December 8th, when the regular school election will be held. In announcing that she would not seek re-appointment the superintendent blamed "persistent discussion of the superintendency of schools in the daily newspapers" for her determination to quit. She declared she would have resigned last June but for the fact that there was a large deficit in the school educational fund, a condition which she said, does not exist now. Mrs. Young, who is 70 years old, has been active in school affairs since 1862, when at the age of sixteen she began teaching grade schools. She conducted an educational tour through France, Germany, Switzerland and England in 1904 and on July 30th, 1909 was made superintendent of public schools in Chicago, a position which she has held continuously until the present time.

TALK BY WIRELESS ACROSS ATLANTIC

Human Voice is Successfully Projected from Arlington to Paris

HONOR FALLS TO WEBB

Receiving Engineer at Honolulu
Also Hears Talk in Full and Recognizes Voice

CABLE CONFIRMS SUCCESS

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Arlington, Va., talked by wireless telephone with Paris, France today. Honolulu also heard the operator talking from Arlington.

Curly Confirms Announcement.
Announcement that the human voice had been successfully projected across the Atlantic was made tonight on behalf of John J. Curry, chief engineer of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, at the company's offices here. Later Mr. Curry telephoned from Chicago, confirming the announcement. To B. B. Webb, a telephone engineer, fell the honor of being the first man to span with his voice the space between the old world and the new.

Sitting in the powerful wireless plant of the navy at Arlington, Va., Mr. Webb, shortly after midnight this morning, asked the wireless telegraph operator to signal the Eiffel Tower in Paris. The wireless snapped out the signal and soon there came a response.

Awaiting word from Mr. Webb at the Paris end of the wireless radiation were H. E. Shreve and other engineers.
In Honolulu, 4,800 miles from Arlington, Mr. Espenchied, another telephone engineer at the Pearl Harbor navy yard, also was waiting.
Has No Receiving Apparatus.
Webb, at Arlington had a transmitting instrument but no receiving apparatus. He knew therefore that he would have to wait for the cable to confirm the success or failure of the experiment.

"Hello Shreve!" he shouted into the microphone. "Hello Shreve!" he then became to count. "One, two, three, four, one, two, three, four. Good bye!"
Late this afternoon the expected cable message came; it was addressed to the company here and said that Webb's "Hellos" and "Good byes" had been distinctly heard by the engineers and French army officers in Paris and that portions of his test figures had also been picked up. At about the same time there came a message from Honolulu saying that Webb's talk had been understood in full by the receiving engineer there and that even the voice had been recognized as Webb's.

Edison Learns of Achievement.
Chicago, Oct. 21.—John J. Curry, chief engineer of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, tonight got Thomas Edison the first news of the transmission of a message by wireless telephone from Arlington, Va., to the Eiffel Tower in Paris, cutting in at Chicago on a telephone wire running from Orange, N. J., to the exposition grounds in San Francisco.

Mr. Edison had no difficulty in hearing the words of Mr. Curry at Chicago, and of a number of assistants at Orange, despite his deafness and his voice carried clearly across the continent as he congratulated the scientists upon the success in telephony.

"We sent a message by wireless telephone at 12:55 this morning to the Eiffel Tower in Paris and this is the first public announcement of the fact," said Mr. Curry.
"That is wonderful," replied Mr. Edison, after repeating the message to make sure he had heard all right. Mr. Edison appeared to be satisfied with anything achieved at once suggested with a megaphone attachment an entire audience on the Pacific Coast might readily hear a concert on the Atlantic seaboard. In the circuit over which the conversations were carried on were pieces of wire over which Alexander Bell first talked by telephone of the first wire used by S. F. Morse for telegraphy and the first trolley wire.

TELL OF ATTEMPT TO SAVE WOMAN

British Issue Report of Condemnation and Execution of Miss Cavell

WHITLOCK SENDS APPEAL

American Minister Attempts to Save Woman Convicted of Aiding Soldiers to Escape

CONFESSES BEFORE COURT

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The report of the circumstances of the condemnation and execution of Miss Edith Cavell, an English woman and head of training school in Brussels, for helping English, French and Belgian soldiers to escape from Belgium made by Brand Whitlock, the American minister at Brussels, to Walter H. Page, the American ambassador at London was issued by the British government this evening.

Mr. Whitlock's final appeal was in the form of a note sent by a messenger late on the night of the 11th, to Governor Von der Lancken reading as follows:

"My Dear Baron:—I am too sick to present my request myself, but I appeal to your generosity of heart to support it and save from death this unhappy woman. Have pity on her!"

"Yours Truly,
"Brand Whitlock."

Mr. Whitlock also stated that Miss Cavell had nursed German soldiers.

Germans Refuse Request.

Counselor of Legation Delavan reported to Mr. Whitlock that on the failure of the German authorities to reply to Mr. Whitlock's request on August 31st, that Mr. Delavan be permitted to see Miss Cavell in order to have all necessary steps taken for her defense, another letter was despatched Sept. 10 to which a German reply on the 12th refused the request, but referred him to Attorney Kirschen, who had been assigned for the defense.

Attorney Kirschen Mr. Delavan reported stated that Miss Cavell was being prosecuted for helping soldiers across the frontier and that lawyers defending prisoners before a German military court were not allowed to see their clients before a trial and were not shown any documents of the prosecution.

Speaks Without Trembling.
The report of Mr. Delavan says Miss Cavell in her oral statement before the court spoke without trembling and showed a clear mind and often added some great precision to her previous depositions. "When she was asked why she helped these soldiers to go to England," the report of Mr. Delavan continues, "she replied that she thought if she had not done so they would have been shot by the Germans. Therefore she thought she only did her duty to her country in saving their lives."

On Oct. 9th, Mr. Whitlock, notified Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador in London that a sentence of death had been asked for but that he had hoped the court might decline to grant it. Mr. Whitlock added he felt it would be useless to take any action until the sentence was pronounced.

The British foreign office asked Mr. Page to express to Mr. Whitlock and his staff the British government's grateful thanks for their efforts in behalf of Miss Cavell.

Orders Wabash Property Turned Over to Committee

Action, it Is Believed Will Pave Way to Speedy Reorganization of Road

Adams of the Federal district court late here today ordered the Equitable Trust company of New York to turn over to the re-organization committee of the creditors of the Wabash railroad the entire railroad property which the trust company recently bought for $18,000,000 at a foreclosure sale. This it is believed will pave the way to a speedy termination of the receivership and the re-organization of the road.

Winslow S. Pierce, chairman of the re-organization committee, Lawrence Greer, attorney for the committee and representatives of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers of New York, who are financing the reorganization plans, departed tonight for Indianapolis, Ind.

Kearney, president and co-receiver of the present Wabash company, would be president of the new company. No formal announcement of what transpired at the conference was made, though it was commonly understood that the details of the proposed plan of re-organization had been submitted to the federal court for approval.

MEXICANS KILL THREE TROOPERS

Body of One Japanese is Found Among the Dead Mexicans

ATTACK OJO DE AGUA

Five Mexicans Are Killed—
Eight American Wounded Are Expected to Recover

TO ORGANIZE SECRET SERVICE

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Oct. 21.—The body of one Japanese was found today among the dead Mexicans killed in an early morning fight between United States soldiers and Mexican bandits at Ojo de Agua. This Japanese had apparently been shot during the fight but there was nothing about the body to indicate whether he belonged to the raiders.

Bandits Cross Into Mexico.

The Rio Grande was used twice today by two separate gangs of Mexican bandits to stop pursuit of American soldiers, the bandits crossing into Mexico. The first crossing was in the retreat from the Ojo de Agua fight, sixty miles up the river about 3 a.m., and the second occurred about thirty miles up the river where soldier and civilian posse chased a small body of Mexicans to the river.

Capt. Frank R. McCoy of the third cavalry, commanding the mission patrol district reported tonight his belief that there were not more than 30 Mexicans in the party that attacked Ojo de Agua. The number of Mexicans killed in this fight still stood tonight at five and the American soldier dead at three. Eight of the American wounded were expected to recover. Not all the bandits appeared to cross the river at the Ojo de Agua fight, for a trail of blood made apparent that they left at least two wounded in the brush.

Screams Warn Soldiers.

The fifteen American soldiers in camp at Ojo de Agua received their first warning of the bandits approach from screams of Mexican women. Soon afterward, according to the story of a trooper at Mission, a sentry saw a bush moving suspiciously. A moment later the bandits opened fire from all sides. One of the first volleys killed Sergeant Schaefer, commanding the detachment. The attacking party seemed to maneuver by angle, like seasoned soldiers.

The army wireless operator ran to his machine to send out a call but a bullet penetrated his arm and another bullet broke the wireless.

Capt. McCoy, at Mission, was notified of the fight by N. C. Cavazos, a merchant at Penas, three miles from Ojo de Agua, who said he heard heavy firing.

One of the Mexican dead was an old man with beard neatly trimmed, who appeared to be of a much more intelligent type than the bandits heretofore observed in the raids.

Reports Are Discredited.

Reports today of a bandit raid near Sebastian were discredited tonight. The report apparently grew out of a false alarm spread when some Mexican cowboys were sighted.

The Carranza consul here, J. Z. Garza, reported to Col. P. P. Blockson, at Fort Brown, that Gen. Carranza commander at Matamoros had sent soldiers to a point opposite Ojo de Agua with orders to arrest persons crossing the river there. Lopez said he had received from Reynosa, Mexico, reports of fighting in that vicinity. Reynosa is near the zone of the fight. When told that Luis de la Rosa, bandit leader, had been reported to American authorities as seen on the streets of Reynosa Wednesday morning, General Lopez said the bandit's presence had not been reported to him. He said he would order de la Rosa's arrest.

To Organize Secret Service.

Col. A. P. Blockson and Col. Jos. A. Gaston, of the sixth cavalry at Harlingen, joined today in asking Major General Funston to have an adequate secret service organized for the work among the Mexicans in this section. Military and civil officers alike are convinced that Texas Mexicans either have aided the bandits or knew in advance of their plans.

Although many Mexicans have promised to co-operate with American authorities little information has been obtained from Mexicans, many of whom seem afraid to give information. It was reported tonight that Texas rangers have asked Governor James E. Ferguson to remove restrictions which heretofore have prevented rangers or civilians from approaching the banks of the Rio Grande in chasing bandits.

Change Date of Meeting.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 21.—The conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution in session here today to meet hereafter the last week of March. The order releasing Morgan county and adjacent territory from quarantine restrictions should have the effect of greatly bettering livestock conditions. For a long period it has been impossible for Morgan county stockmen to ship out except for immediate slaughter and nothing could be shipped in from Chicago. The result has been to discourage farmers and stockmen from attempting even the usual amount of feeding but now a speedy change for the better is expected.

A speaker who addressed the Ohio federation of women's clubs Wednesday possibly was influenced by the results of the suffrage election in New Jersey and felt that it was a wise thing to tell the women up to new activity. The speaker declared that Ohio women are showing marked indifference to important civic and social matters and are devoting too much attention to merely literary themes and neglecting such vital matters as the prevention of crime, problems of public leisure and still others relating to the care of the feeble-minded. As one woman put it, "Ohio has no time for Dante and Browning until these matters are adjusted. Ohio women must put away their knitting and tating until they have provided substitutes for her fabled and segregation for her feeble-minded."

Weighing Election Results.

Although suffrage leaders in New Jersey have bravely come forward with the statement that they are by no means discouraged with the result of the recent election there, the result is undoubtedly very disappointing to suffrage leaders the country over. The fact that President Wilson sometime since announced that he was in favor of the proposed change in New Jersey and would cast his vote in favor of it did not seem to have much effect, for the president's own precinct returned a majority against the proposition. Another interesting point in the returns is indicated by the vote in the rural precincts. It was expected that the country vote would be largely in favor of suffrage but the results were not that way. Evidently the women in the country precincts have no very settled convictions on the question and made little or no effort to influence the vote of their male relatives.

Court Ruling in Bond Election.

If a ruling recently made by the appellate court stands when it gets to the supreme court, there will be quite a change in the matter of elections for bond issues and on questions of public policy. The court ruling wiped out the result in an election wherein bonds were authorized by a majority of those who voted upon the proposition. The court held that to authorize the bonds that a majority of all votes cast in the election should have been favorable to the bonds.

If the supreme court sustains the appellate court finding, hereafter it will be almost necessary to hold special elections for the settlement of bond issue questions and when no other matters are to be voted upon. The records show that it seldom happens that when a bond issue is considered at the same election with other questions that anywhere near all the voters express themselves on the bond issue. There are always voters who ignore questions of this kind and in most cases it would be impossible to authorize school bonds or any other bond issue at an election where other matters as well must be settled.

Scientific Management.

Leading experts in industrial management from many parts of the country are in Philadelphia to honor the memory of Frederick W. Taylor, who was known throughout the civilized world as the father of scientific management. At the same time the gathering will discuss the problems of scientific management from all angles, and there are many points in dispute. The convention is under the auspices of the National Society to Promote the Science of Management.

A memorial service to Dr. Taylor will be held at the University of Pennsylvania as the opening meeting of efficiency experts. One of the most interesting subjects to be discussed is a paper which will be read by Richard A. Feiss of Cleveland, outlining the results achieved in the Feiss shops. The Feiss methods of caring for the comfort and well-being of a thousand employees are considered as unique by the experts. After Mr. Feiss presents the facts, labor union leaders, social workers, manufacturers and efficiency engineers will be given a chance to present their various views of the methods and results.

Though paying higher wages, Feiss has achieved a success in operating a modern shop. He has given steady employment and introduced the educational director, the social worker, the nurse, savings banks, unemployment insurance and other new ideas.

State Government Costs.

The Chicago News in a recent issue calls special attention to a bulletin just issued by the legislative voters' league. This is the first of a series dealing with the waste of state funds and it is declared that the cost of operating the government of Illinois has increased one hundred and thirty per cent within the last six years. As measured by appropriations already made by the legislature for the coming two years, the increased cost is twenty-one per cent by comparison with the preceding two-year period.

The bulletin calls especial attention to the padded payroll of the general assembly and shows that this was especially true of the senate. The payroll of the senate was heavier than the house of representatives, although the house has three times as many members as the senate. The figures given to prove this are $45,669 for members of the house of representatives and $57,864 for members of the senate. At this time the voters' league does not attempt to place the responsibility although it declares that Senators Bailey, Barry, Eason and Broderick, together with Lieut. Gov. O'Hara, co-operated in making a large amount of the expenditures possible.

There are good reasons why the cost of state government should show a considerable increase now by comparison with the figures of six years ago, but there is no reason for such a vast increase as the bulletin indicates. The cost of individual and family living has increased during the period mentioned but not by any such heavy percentage as the cost of operating the state's business.

The suits brought against the state some weeks ago which resulted in tying up a number of state funds resulted in some hardship, but the effect in general was good in that it brought into public notice certain usages and practices of the general assembly which were wasteful and extravagant to a high degree. So the bulletin of the legislative voters' league is also doing a public service in emphasizing the extravagance already mentioned.

MURRAYVILLE INSTITUTE ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

EXHIBITS FROM SCHOOLS ARE VERY CREDITABLE

Liberal Sprites Offered Made Competition Spurred—Mr. Allen Discussed Advantages of the Silo in Cattle Feeding—Mrs. Hessler Gave Practical Talk on Making the Home Beautiful.

The annual farmers' institute at Murrayville was held Thursday morning and afternoon and was well attended. The exhibit of farm products, fancy work, etc. was large and creditable, the generous prizes offered having much to do with the success of this feature. C. J. Wright made the address of welcome, and L. O. Berryman, president of the county institute, presided. Addresses were made by Mrs. C. J. Hessler of Decatur, and by Ralph Auen of LaSalle. In the exhibit department a prize of $1.00 each was offered by each of four schools taking part. Murrayville, Pleasant Grove, East Greasy and Garner—for the following: yellow corn, white corn, Irish potatoes, bread, butter, cake, apples, crocheting, embroidery, hair-locks and pumpkins.

In addition to these cash prizes there were sweepstake prizes for the best chosen from all of the school groups. In addition there were cash prizes for the schools, first $15; second, $10; third, 5, these prizes being paid by the Morgan county board. The $1 cash prizes were paid by the school boards of the several districts and the sweepstakes were contributed by the Murrayville people. The exhibit were shown in the basement of the Methodist church and the exercises took place in the auditorium there. In the school exhibit Murrayville won the first prize of $15. The second prize of $10 went to East Greasy and the third prize of $5 to Garner.

The afternoon program opened with a piano duet given by Miss Mildred Wright and Willard Wesner. Then Rev. C. S. McCollom offered a prayer, and he was followed by C. J. Wright, who spoke of the importance of farmers' institute work and commented on the increasing interest in this work shown by people in the Murrayville neighborhood. The "Short Children", members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Short, then gave a musical selection, after which Mrs. C. J. Hessler of Decatur was introduced to talk on the subject of "Making a Beautiful Home".

Mrs. Hessler emphasized the thought that the home must not only be beautiful but comfortable and really suited to the needs of the family if it meets its highest good. She suggested that homes for this reason must vary in the matter of furnishings. For example, the mother who has a family of boys should select furniture practical for her needs, that is, substantial furniture and not that of a delicate kind which would be more likely to cause friction in the home than comfort. Mrs. Hessler spoke of wallpapers and decorations, urging that they be quiet in colors, of a kind to furnish a good background not only for the furniture but for the people who form a part of the household. For any, bright rooms she preferred brown, blue or green tones, and said that for dark rooms tan and yellow shades are desirable.

The speaker referred to the growing tendency for plain woods in interior finish and for furniture, suggesting that in the choice of furniture that the first consideration must be given to the comfort of the inmates of the home, and the viewpoint of the average person must be considered. One should avoid chairs of a delicate or fragile type and to choose those which are strong enough for the occupancy of a person of average physique. One of the most salient suggestions made was that it would be a good idea for the average housekeeper to at least once a year take down all pictures and bric-a-brac from each room and put them away for a short time, and before returning the articles to their accustomed places, to be sure that the return will make an addition to the beauty or comfort of the room.

Mrs. Hessler said it was just as bad to use pictures and decorations which were detrimental to the home as it was to eat food which does not agree with one. The speaker said that the mere matter of hanging pictures was important, for the general tendency was to hang pictures higher than they should be, that is, above the level of vision. She said that a picture with the center in the normal line of vision was properly hung. Altogether the address was replete with practical suggestions for home decoration. Mrs. Hessler has been in institute, club and chautauqua work for a number of years and is well qualified to talk on subjects of special interest to women, and she has the faculty of making her addresses of a kind practical to the locality in which she is offering the suggestions. Some time ago Mrs. Hessler was in San Francisco and her address there on the subject of "Dress for Women" attracted widespread attention.

The speaker announced to talk on "Silos and Silage" was George F. Tullock, who was unable to be present, and in his place an address was made by Ralph Allen of LaSalle county. Mr. Allen has a large farm there which he has conducted successfully for a number of years, and his suggestions from this fact carry special weight with those familiar with his record as a farmer and stockman. As would be expected, Mr. Allen is a firm believer in silos and does not see how stock feeding can be profitably conducted without the silo as an aid. He believes that a silo constructed of tile will prove the most economical in the end because of the longer life, but there

GREATEST PHOTOPLAY SCREENED

Every man, woman and child will be thrilled by its action.

As a book and as a play, "The White Sister" created a sensation. Filmed on the screen by Essanay, with Viola Allen in the title role and Richard C. Travers as leading man, it will be the sensation of the motion picture world. The director has caught the heart throbs of a woman and used them with the subtlety of genius in making the world's greatest motion picture. Many people thought the end of perfection had been reached in the stage version, but the film version is greater and better, because Viola Allen has, before the screen, done the greatest work of her wonderful career.

The reels are crowded every moment with the hurrying events of a great life drama. The pictures are superb; the costumes are correct in every detail; the scenes are laid correctly as to atmosphere. ### MORTUARY

Vasconcellos.
Mrs. Recie DeSilva has received word of the death of her friend, Mrs. H. Vasconcellos at Los Angeles, Calif. The deceased was formerly Miss Melle Steinmetz of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Saxton.
Edward Saxton of Greenfield died at Jacksonville State hospital Thursday morning at 6 o'clock after a four months illness. He was 87 years of age and had been a patient at the hospital for three months. He is survived by eight children and two sisters. The remains were taken to Greenfield for interment.

Gaitens.
Mrs. Cecelia Daly Gaitens died at Our Savior's hospital Thursday morning shortly after five o'clock with senile pneumonia, of which she had had several attacks within the past ten years. Her death was a beautiful one. Having received the last consolations of her church and surrounded by her children, of whose presence she was conscious almost until the end, she passed into a restful sleep, in which, a few hours later, she peacefully died.

Cecelia Ellen Daly was born in Belfast, Ireland, on August 15, 1847. Her parents were John and Mary Carroll Daly. When nineteen years old she was married to Patrick Joseph Gaitens in Glasgow, Scotland. In 1867 she removed with her family to this country, taking up residence at Lewistown, Fulton county, Illinois. She had five children: James, who died when fourteen years old; John, who died in this city twenty years ago; Mary, now Mrs. Paul Alexander of Caldwell street; James Francis of North Fayette street, and Thomas William, of North Main street, who survive her. Her husband died in 1876 at Lewistown. She, with her children, removed from Lewistown to this city about twenty-eight years ago. For the past eighteen years, Mrs. Gaitens had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Paul Alexander, and at her home the body now lies.

The funeral will be held from the Catholic church Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock. Burial will be made in Calvary cemetery. The family request that friends please omit flowers.

REPORT REVIVAL OF FREIGHT TRAFFIC

ROADS ENTERING NEW YORK DO BIG BUSINESS.

Erie's tonnage figures for Last Month Shows Business Done in September 1915 Was the Greatest Ever Recorded During Operation of Road.

New York, Oct. 21.—A general revival of freight traffic unequalled since 1907, was reported today by almost every railroad entering New York City or with terminals on the New Jersey shore across the Hudson river.

At the office of the Erie railroad it was said that tonnage figures for last month, available today, showed that the business done in September, 1915, was the greatest ever recorded on the books of the company during the operation of the road.

Tonnage on the Baltimore & Ohio of shipments to New York and for export has increased forty per cent it was said, within the past ninety days.

The New Haven railroad is moving more freight today, it was said, than it has moved for years before.

The New York Central Lines report that business is so good that hundreds of extra men have been added to handle the traffic and that deliveries of the five thousand to six thousand cars are being hurried to care for the traffic.

On the Central railroad of New Jersey the volume is equal, it is said, to the previous high record of the company. Some slight delay has occurred on this road in handling export shipments but this is being rapidly adjusted. For a time all sidings as far away as Somerville, N. J., 35 miles from New York, were choked with loaded cars. These are being moved expeditiously now, it is reported, in the face of a steadily increasing flood of traffic greater than any recorded in years.

The Pennsylvania railroad company, declined to state the volume of business being done over its lines but in railroad circles it was reported that seldom in the road's history had it been equalled before.

Steamship companies have pressed into service every possible craft to carry the enormous volume of exports across the Atlantic and are working the vessels at top speed. A great many trans-Atlantic passenger liners have been taken off but their places have been filled as far as possible by chartering other vessels from coastwise craft to tramp steamers and even sailing ships. It is no uncommon thing for a trans-Atlantic liner to be turned back to England within 48 hours after her arrival, an unusual procedure before the past few months.

Every vessel that sails out of New York harbor these days for Europe from clipper to passenger liner rides low in the water with a cargo crowding her holds.

AN ACCEPTABLE GIFT.

Yesterday Messrs. S. H. Crum and D. K. McCarty came to the city from Litchberry with a fine load of apples for Passavant hospital. The fruit was very acceptable and the sincere thanks of the management are tendered the worthy gentlemen and all who had a hand in the gift. The apples were from Mr. Crum's orchard and Mr. McCarty did lots of the picking. There is plenty of room at the hospital for more kindly disposed persons to go and do likewise.

TEARNEY DOUBTS

REPORTED DECISION
Chicago, Oct. 21.—President Tearney of the Three Eye League expressed doubt today that the National Association had decided to consider Rock Island open territory if the Three Eye did not put a team there in 1915, as President Justice of the Central Association is reported to maintain.

At the meeting of President Tearney's organization here last Tuesday when the Rock Island promoters were granted a franchise, it was understood that jurisdictional questions would not stand in the way.

ALL NATIONALS WIN GAME.

St. Paul, Oct. 21.—The All-Nationals baseball team defeated the All-Americans here today 4 to 2. Score: R. H. E. Americans . . . 000 000 020—2 5 1 Nationals . . . 201 060 108—4 6 1 Klepper and Henry; Vaughn and Miller.

BRAVES TO TAKE GREGG.

Boston, Oct. 21.—The management of the Boston Nationals today announced that Pitcher Gregg of the Terre Haute team of the Central League would be taken south with the Braves next spring.

His record is said to compare favorably with that of Nehf, a former team mate, who pitched well for Boston the latter part of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scholfield of the region of Lynnville were city visitors yesterday.

EDISON DAY AT THE FAIR.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—Thomas Edison, the American inventor, is the guest of honor at the Panama-Pacific International exposition today. "Edison Day" is being devoted to the veteran of the laboratory. Accompanying the inventor is Mrs. Edison, also their sons, Charles and Theodore. It required the coaxing of his family and friends to induce the "wizard" to leave his workshop in New Jersey for a vacation in the west. But he is enjoying himself like a school boy, and everything at the big fair is interesting to him. Many leaders in the field of invention are present, and speeches will be made lauding the work of Edison.

Today was selected as "Edison Day" because it was just 36 years ago today that Edison discovered the filament used in incandescent lamps. He is generally accorded the invention of the incandescent lamp, but scientific authorities place the invention back many years before Edison set out to make a filament. European electricians had made incandescent lights, but were thwarted in their efforts to find a filament that would answer Edison's discovery came just at the time when the manufacture of current was becoming practical, and his find revolutionized the lighting of the homes of the world.

BIBLE CLASSES SHOULDER RIFLES.

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—The formal opening of the Drexel Biddle military instruction camp will take place tomorrow. The camp will be a duplicate of the recent citizen camp at Plattsburg, and is located on the grounds of the Drexel Biddle Bible classes at Lansdowne. With the approval of the war department, the camp will give military instruction in all branches of the service. Most of the recruits are members of the bible classes, and fully 3,000 men and boys can be accommodated.

The purposes of the bible training camp is to train men for peace, according to Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, who originated the idea. Letters from General Wood and Secretary of War Garrison have endorsed the camp, and commented on the fact that the local bible classes were the first religious bodies to aid in the nation's defense plans.

The boys have been drilling each Saturday for several weeks, hardening their muscles for the camp life. Each Friday for six weeks, the recruits will report at the camp, to remain until Monday. The recruits will live the soldier life under war conditions and will be trained in the fundamentals of modern warfare.

WEALTHY CLUBMAN FACES BIGAMY CHARGE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 21.—Charles E. George, of New Orleans, a wealthy clubman known in society circles in the East, South and West, will be arraigned in court today to answer to the charge of bigamy. Mr. George is a prominent attorney and publisher in New Orleans, and he came voluntarily to face the charge filed against him in this city.

The charge of bigamy was brought by Walter W. Stillings, brother-in-law of Mrs. May T. Ritter-George, who will be the star witness, it is expected. Stillings alleges that when George married Selma Klein of this city, he was still the lawful husband of Mrs. Ritter-George. The bride of the clubman is a sister-in-law of Alderman Oscar Altper of this city. Stillings claims they were married here Nov. 6, 1912, by County Judge Karel, after a romance in a hotel. Selma Klein was a public stenographer in the Plankinton Hotel, when she met the clubman.

George is alleged to have married Mrs. Ritter-George in 1898, and is said to have a child 15 years old. This marriage, according to the district attorney, took place shortly after George divorced his first wife. This wife, who has started the trouble here, has been conducting a rug business in New York. She is said to be a daughter of Rear Admiral Walker of the United States navy and a niece of "Fighting Bob" Evans.

A fourth woman figures in the alleged love affairs of George. She is Ida L. Austrian-George, who was the widow of the late Bennett Austrian, former business partner of Brodie Duke, the millionaire cigarette manufacturer. According to the district attorney, George married the widow in Canada, in 1906, and they went to New Orleans and later to San Francisco. After their arrival at the Golden Gate, Mrs. Ida Austrian-George started suit for separate maintenance. She lost her case when it was learned she did not legally marry George, it is alleged. George, however, escaped the charge of bigamy at that time.

"I have been married only once," was the statement of George when he first learned of the charges brought against him here. "I never heard of some of these women before," he is quoted as saying. "One of them, whose name is Ritter is trying to blackmail me," he added to the reporter.

SECRETARIES OF STATE IN CONVENTION.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 21.—Secretaries of State from a number of states gathered here today to discuss for the first time the common problems of their office and organize for the continuance of the cooperation. The organization will be known as the American Secretaries of State Association.

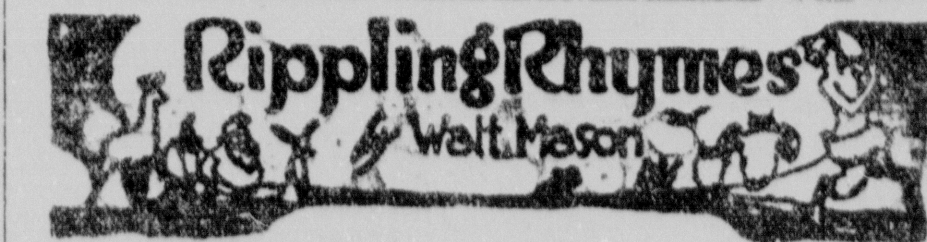

The secretaries from the following states have either arrived or are expected: Utah, Minnesota, Ohio, Delaware, Tennessee, Indiana, New York, Kansas, West Virginia, Maine, Oklahoma, Washington, Michigan, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Alabama, Wyoming, Idaho and Massachusetts.

The idea to form such an organization originated with Hon. Stuart F. Reed, Secretary of State for West Virginia. During their two day convention here, it is hoped that Secretary Lansing will attend, also Premier Borden of Canada. The work of their respective offices will be discussed by the secretaries and ideas will be interchanged. Politics will not enter into the discussions, the main object being to co-operate to make their offices more efficient for the public good.

FORMER GOVERNOR UP FOR CRIMINAL LIBEL.

Boston, Oct. 21.—The charges of criminal libel brought against former Governor Eugene N. Foss of Massachusetts, as the result of the recent political campaign, by Dennis D. Driscoll, a labor leader, will have an airing in court today. The former governor has publicly charged that Driscoll had offered to call off a strike at the Foss factories if the proprietor, who was then governor, would make a certain appointment to a state board. The case has aroused much political interest, and will be bitterly contested by both sides.

George and Miss Bridge Lockhart of Litchberry called yesterday on their sister, Mrs. John Wagner and family, of North Prairie street.

CONFIDENCE.

I know a man who hunts for snakes, and kills them for their grease. He says 'twill cure rheumatic aches, and make your anquish cease. The doctors say that serpent oil no sort of virtue owns; it will not cure the pains that coil around your joints and loaves. But this old gun who kills the snakes has never had a doubt; he says all other cures are fakes, when reptile oil's about. He is so everlasting sure that what he says is true, that even skeptics buy his 'cure', to see what it will do. And so it keeps him tolling hard, the keen demand to meet, and he's bought with bullsnake lard a home in Easy Street. If you believe in what you sell, have faith in what you say, in that same avenue you'll dwell, upon a future day. If one is not supremely sure that what he has for sale makes all competitors look poor, his eloquence will fail. A man can sell me setting hens, or swarms of humble bees, or double action fountain pens, or cures for housemaids' knees, if he's convinced that what he sells beats everything around; that sort of salesman's wearing bells, wherever he is found.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR CATARRH

Just Breathe Hyomei Four Times a Day and Be Relieved.

If a few years ago some one had said you could treat catarrh by breathing air charged with a healing balsam, the idea would have been ridiculous and remained for that eminent investigator, R. T. Booth, to discover in Hyomei this wonderful method of treatment.

Hyomei has performed almost miraculous results in treating catarrh and is today recognized by thousands of people as the only advertised remedy for catarrh that can be relied upon to do just what it claims. The complete outfit of Hyomei is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei.

Breathe the air of Hyomei through the little inhaler druggists furnish with it for a few minutes four times a day and it will help the worst case of catarrh. It soothes and heals the mucous membrane of the air passages, prevents irritation, and effects complete and lasting relief.

In Jacksonville there are scores of well known people who have been relieved of catarrh by Hyomei. If it does not help you Coover & Shreve will return the money you paid for Hyomei. This is the strongest evidence that can be offered as to their faith in this remedy.—Adv.

MOTHER DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother. If coated or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs", then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is of times all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs", which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company".—Adv.

BOYS FIND PEDDLER'S BODY.
Chicago, Oct. 20.—On a prairie near Seventy-sixth street and Chauncey avenue lived an old peddler named J. Osborne. People in the neighborhood say he was eccentric and wealthy. His abode was a ramshackle hut in which he lived alone. Yesterday two boys, who had been playing near the old man's dwelling, found his mangled body on the floor, with the head almost severed from the trunk and the skull crushed. He had been dead a number of hours.

JACKSONVILLE PLAYS SPRINGFIELD SATURDAY

LOCAL FOOTBALL ELEVEN GO TO CAPITAL CITY.

Hard Drill Being Given Men in Anticipation for Hard Game Tomorrow—Illinois College Team Will Play Shurtleff College at Alton Saturday.

Local football enthusiasts will not have the opportunity of seeing either Illinois college or the high school teams in action Saturday. The high school team goes to Springfield, where they will meet the first eleven of the Capital city. Comparison of strength shows that the Springfield men have a shade on the locals. Carlinville high trimmed Jacksonville, and Springfield won from Blackburn college, that always plays rings around the Carlinville high in practice.

Coach Huber has had his men in a hard drill for the Saturday fray and the players are going to give the Springfield lads the best they have. With only one new man in the line-up, the Jacksonville boys have to play against a great disadvantage. There will be some slight changes in the local lineup and a number of extra players will be taken along in case they are needed. Springfield is expecting a big game and feel confident that they will not have a very hard time in annexing the contest. Several rooters will accompany the team and some of the instructors.

Coach Huber has announced the following lineup:

Right tackle—Molohon.
Quarter back—Priest.
Right half back—Homer Reynolds.
Full back—Herring.

The Springfield Journal in speaking of the game Saturday says:

"When the Jacksonville high school sends its football squad to Springfield Saturday they will be sending it against a hard proposition, according to the local dopesters Jacksonville has a mighty fast backfield but does not have a very strong line. It is asserted that this fact has been responsible for their poor showing this year. If comparative scores mean anything at all, the Red and Black squad will be able to put one over on the neighborhood team. Carlinville, who unmercifully defeated Jacksonville recently, is child's play every evening for the Blackburn college as the gossip goes, and the latter team was forced to eat humble pie last Saturday when Springfield high cleaned up with a crippled team.

Opponents Have "Pep."

"However, one fault with the dope is that comparative scores usually mean nothing at all. Besides, Jacksonville declares they have improved their line wonderfully in the past two weeks. At any rate a good game may be expected as Jacksonville always has an abundance of one very essential quality—"pep"—a quality without which the best drilled team cannot put up a good game.

"Springfield is getting back some of the old spirit of bygone days, too, this was very evident at the boys' assembly yesterday afternoon when Coach Wentz spoke.

"The game Saturday will be the fore-runner of the big game to be played Saturday a week, when the Red and Black go to Decatur for the most important game of the season."

Illinois Vs. Shurtleff.

Coach Harmon will take his Illinois college football team to Alton tomorrow, to play the Shurtleff college eleven. Shurtleff college earlier in the season was reported to have a good bunch of men and were in splendid fighting condition. Their recent defeat at the hands of Millikin university by a score of 60 to 0 would indicate that they are not going well, although, it is claimed that during the last quarter of the game Shurtleff took objection to the officials and did not attempt much.

Harmon will probably take 18 or 20 men, and this will afford some of the second string an opportunity to get in the game. Overlooking some minor bruises which the Illinois men met with in the Normal game the players are all getting back into good shape. Illinois' interest does not center so much in the contest Saturday, however, as it does in the game one week from tomorrow when Wesleyan comes here. Wesleyan will play William & Nash on the former's grounds and it looks from dope like it will be a battle royal. Coach Derby of Lombard will take his team to Decatur to play Millikin Saturday and the Decaturites will have their hands full. It looks like Lombard's game. The Lombard team will go via Champaign where they will stop off for a day and practice. Derby will feel natural on the U. of I. grounds as he used to play end on the big university team. Foodrich, full back on the Lombard team who was thought to have been hurt badly will be in the game Saturday.

The first of two big hunt meets at Chestnut Hill, Pa., takes place this afternoon, at the White Marsh Valley Hunt Club. Several classy events are scheduled, and the hunters will remain over until Saturday for their second meet.

The big elevens are having their troubles rounding into form this year. The development of football in the smaller colleges is lessening the margin between the "preliminary" matches, and upsets are more frequent than ever.

WAD RIOT OF COLORS.

Grotesque Native Fashions on the West Coast of Africa.

A somewhat amusing description of the arrival of a ship on the African coast near Sierra Leone is given by Mrs. Horace Tremlett in her book "With the Tin Gods." She says the ship was met by a multitude of primitive native canoes manned by naked savages, but evidences of civilization were not lacking in the later arrivals.

"They were followed in a more leisurely and decorous fashion by boats, also containing colored people, but clothed and apparently in their right mind, and these climbed up the companionway and swarmed in dozens all over the decks and into the saloons, taking possession of the ship. No one appeared to resent their behavior, and they crowded into the drawing room, loitering about on the settees and chairs. Some of them thumped out hymns and cakewalks with mercurial enthusiasm on the piano, while the others whistled or sang the tune in various and divergent keys. They had evidently come on board to enjoy themselves, and every black face was decorated with an expensive and genial grin of pleasure.

"The men were dressed in decent ready made suits of dark tweed or cloth and, though adorned with a good deal of jewelry in the way of watch chains, pins and rings, were quite respectable. But their womenfolk were the most ludicrous caricature of civilization it is possible to imagine. Many of them wore silk and satin dresses, frilled, gathered and draped about their bulky figures. Red and yellow appeared to be the most popular colors, although purple and green were a close second, and I remember a very striking costume of emerald green velvet with bright pink satin facings and frills of deep coffee colored lace that surely must have been the envy of all beholders. Huge hats of grotesque shapes were perched indifferently on their black woolly heads. Magenta feathers strove with scarlet poppies, and vivid blue roses wrestled with yellow ribbons on a mauve hat.

"Bangles and chains composed of everything from colored glass to fine gold jingled and rattled as they moved about and glistened equally with their coal black eyes and gleaming white teeth. They chattered and gibbered like a troop of monkeys, and pandemonium reigned on board for several hours. It transpired that they were the native aristocracy of Sar Leone, merchants and traders with their ladies, who made a point of boarding the mail boat whenever possible, generally to bid farewell to one of their number who is traveling down the coast. They look upon it as a legitimate excuse for a spree, and as a large proportion of the ship's cargo depends upon their good will they are encouraged to make the most of the occasion."

FIFTY-TWO ARE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN KILLED IN EXPLOSION

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Fifty-two persons are reported to have been killed in an explosion this afternoon in a factory in the Rue De Tolbiac, while one hundred or more were injured.

Many of the victims were women workers in the factory, which was wrecked, as were buildings in the vicinity.

President Poincare and minister of the interior Malvy, who were immediately informed of the disaster, visited the scene and gave directions to the rescuing forces.

RECENT OPERATION TOOK HIS STRENGTH

Telephone Wire Chief Was in a Much Run-down Condition Until He Took Tanlac.

MEDICINE BROUGHT STRENGTH

Among the many statements being made daily in connection with the new preparation, Tanlac, none is more interesting than the one which was made last week by R. W. Moltke, wire chief for the Interstate Telephone Company of Peoria, Ill., and who resides at 501 Morgan street in that city. Mr. Moltke said: "Owing to an operation which was recently performed, I have been in very poor health. My whole system has been out of order and there were times when I became intensely nervous and I suffered with a continued dullness in the head. I felt tired and worn out all day and I could not sleep at night. My digestion was poor and I was almost always constipated. As soon as I would eat anything my stomach would fill with gas and I would be distressed for half an hour or more. In this run-down condition I contracted cold easily and suffered with severe coughs. I tried several remedies to build up my system but nothing seemed to do me a particle of good.

"About ten days or two weeks ago I decided to try this Tanlac preparation. I got a bottle of this medicine and I am glad I did for Tanlac has proved a wonderful remedy in my case.

"The old tired out feeling has left me and I seem to have new life and energy. I now sleep all night and get up in the morning feeling cheerful and ready for work. I have a fine appetite and relish everything I eat. I am fast gaining strength and am only too glad to recommend Tanlac to my friends and those who are suffering as I was."

Tanlac, the "Master Medicine", referred to in the above statement, is now being sold in Jacksonville at the well known drug store of Coover & Shreve.—Adv.

Loan and Lend.

Many errors are committed in the name of usage. That's why, today, the dictionaries permit one to use "loan" as a verb instead of "lend."

The highest philological authorities, among whom is Richard Grant White, say that "loan" is absolutely the noun form of the word.

"Lend me a dollar" is correct. Further, when the man has lent you the dollar you have obtained the loan and presumably will repay it. We negotiate for loans and obtain them if the person is willing to lend them to us. One cannot loan a loan any more than one can lend a lend. If we insist in using loan as a verb the word "lend" is so much excess matter in the lexicon.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Historical Misnomers.

History is full of misnomers. Our fathers began to call Lincoln Old Abe when he was only fifty-one years of age. He died at fifty-six and so never was old.

The most famous regiment that has participated in any American war was Morgan's Virginia Riflemen of the Revolution. But 192 of those troops were from Pennsylvania and only 163 from Virginia and 65 from Maryland.

The pet name for Napoleon was the Little Corporal, but he never was a corporal. He entered the French army as a lieutenant.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Curious Funeral Ceremony.

It is said that when Alaric, the conqueror of Rome, died "a river was turned aside to make place in its bed for his grace, and when he was buried the water was again let into its former channel and the prisoners who had helped to bury him were killed so that no one might find out where the conqueror of Rome was buried." The river turned was the Busento and the place near Cosentino, Italy.

Perfectly Natural.

"Why does that young man reach in his pocket and draw out a package of papers as soon as he begins to talk to any one?"

"That's a mere matter of habit. You see, he is a life insurance agent."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

In the Modern Flat.

Prospective Tenant (dubiously)—Well, I'd take the place—it has modern improvements, and so forth, as you say—but I don't like that ugly crack in the wall over there. Junior (dassily)—Crack, sir? Why, that's the private hall.—Puck.

Explained.

"Always thought you were too lazy to run like this for a car, old man." "It's all right, old top. Laziness runs in our family."—Browning's Magazine.

"The Kind Mother Uses"

"Every time mother gets out Calumet I know there's going to be good things to eat at our house. Delicious, tender, tempting doughnuts, biscuits, cakes and pies! I've never seen a bakery failure with Calumet. Mother says it's the only Baking Powder that insures uniform results."

It is Just Natural To Admire Babies

Our attractive nature impels love for the cooling infant. And at the same time the subject of motherhood is ever before us. To know what to do that will add to the physical comfort of expectant motherhood is a subject that has interested most women of all times. One of the real helpful things in an ideal maternal application is found in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." We have known so many grandmothers, who in their younger days relied upon this remedy, and who recommended it to their own daughters that it certainly must be what its name indicates. They have used it for its direct influence upon the muscles, cords, ligaments and tendons as it aims to afford relief from the strain and pain so often unecessarily severe during the period of expectancy.

Every woman should mention "Mother's Friend" when the doctor is the subject of conversation. An interesting little book is mailed free upon application to Bradfield Regulator Co., 505 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It refers to many things that women like to read about. It also contains more complete directions than could be put upon a label. It refers not only to the relief from muscle strain due to their expansion but also to indigestion, morning sickness, caking of breasts.

Get or recommend a bottle of "Mother's Friend" to-day and write for the book. The effect of this splendid external application is an expression of the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

Corn Limpers! Use "Gets-It" and Smile!

Corns Come Right Off, Clean and Quick! You Needn't Limp, or Fuss With Your Corns Any More!

What's the use of spoiling a good time for yourself by limping around with those corns? It's one of the easiest things in the world to get rid of them. "Gets-It" does it.

"Those Corns Come Right Off, Clean As a Whistle, by Using 'Gets-It'" the new way. That's why "Gets-It" has become the corn remedy of America, the biggest selling corn remedy in the world, preferred by millions. Do you remember that toe-eating salve you tried that sticky tape, whenever you use simple, easy "Gets-It" the corn is doomed, sure. So is every callus, wart or bunion. Never cut corns or calluses, it makes them grow that much faster and increases the danger of blood poisoning. No cutting is necessary by using "Gets-It." Use it tonight and end your corny existence.

ILLINOIS TAKES 183 AWARDS AT EXPOSITION

State Receives Notable List—Creditable Showing Made in all Departments—Farmers of State Receive 149 Awards.

A high-sided barge is moving slowly along a canal whose surface is gray in the diffused light of a cloudy afternoon. On the right rise the red, smoking chimneys of a factory town, on the left stretch away the blue Illinois prairies. The scene is from the brush of an Illinois artist, W. L. Lathrop, and beneath it is the covered sign: "Awarded a Gold Medal by the International Jury of the Panama-Pacific Exposition."

Illinois in competition with the world received 183 awards. Among these were seven grand prizes, six medals of honor and fourteen gold medals. All the awards have not been published, but even if Illinois should receive no more—and that is extremely unlikely—she would still stand head and shoulders above her competitors. Nor is Illinois distinguished by the number of her prizes alone, for the quality is more noteworthy than the quantity. The crowds which have been attracted by the Illinois exhibits are the talk of the fair officials no less than the success the state has had in the interstate and international competition. Any Illinoisan who sees what has been done by the artists, the manufacturers, the farmers, and the state of Illinois itself will be proud to say he hails from there.

In Fine Arts

The number of awards granted by the department of fine arts to the Illinois artists would have been greater had not three of Chicago's most prominent painters been chosen to serve on the international jury of awards. But though their work was thrown out of the competition, the honor done to the artists themselves, and thru them to the state in which they lived, was far greater than could have been conferred by a dozen gold medals. For to be on the jury means that an artist is acknowledged to be one of the leading contemporary masters. By tacit consent his mastery of his art is assumed to be so perfect that it does not need the proof of successful competition. There were only thirty-three painters in the world so honored. Three of them were from Illinois—a record equaled only by Massachusetts among all the states of the union.

Sixteen In Fine Arts

In the palace of fine arts Illinois received sixteen awards. One artist from every four who competed was given a prize. The picture mentioned at the head of this article is but one of many which is always surrounded by a crowd of admirers. The Panama-Pacific exposition is itself one vast piece of sculpture, for every corner is occupied by a figure, every wall and corner by a bas-relief or a frieze, but in the midst of this profusion the "Fragment of a Fountain of Time" halts the hurrying tourist in the middle of his stride. It is from the chisel of Lorado Taft, of Chicago.

The same story of pre-eminence could be told of the Chicago firms which have exhibited their products in the exposition palaces. Seven grand prizes have been awarded them, six medals of honor and this ten gold medals. In making these awards the jury was influenced by the effect the competing products were having upon the civilization and progress of the day, as well as by mechanical perfection. Grand prizes and medals of honor were granted only when the products served to advance civilization, and the large ## number of high awards received by Illinois is a token of her supremacy.

Farmers Get Many
The farmers of Illinois have received 149 awards. The booth in agricultural hall is trimmed with pleasing designs in red and yellow corn, and the agricultural products displayed show that the fields of Illinois have kept pace with the rise of her factories. Emphasis is placed on the fact that Illinois is a corn growing and hog-raising state, with opportunity for the farmer and the dairyman.

For Illinoisans
The Illinois commission to the Panama-Pacific fair did not consider their work done after collecting a superb state exhibit. They have provided every inducement for Illinoisans to come and see it. The exposition is primarily an educational opportunity, yet it is also a celebration, and the sight-seers are offered a good time. No state has made greater provision for the comfort of its visitors than Illinois. Its state pavilion is spacious and beautiful. It contains restful reading and writing rooms, a ball room constantly used by parties of "home folks," and an information bureau which has already looked after the comfort and pleasure of 60,000 people from "back home in Illinois."

And the exposition, in which the great commonwealth of Illinois is so magnificently represented, is a success. At this writing almost 14,500,000 persons have passed thru its turnstiles. The weather of California is now at its finest, and it is expected that before it closes its gates forever, on Dec. 4, the attendance will reach 18,000,000 persons.

WILSON CONFIDENT COUNTRY WILL APPROVE DEFENSE PLANS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Confidence that the country will approve the administration's plan for strengthening the National defenses was expressed by President Wilson today in addressing a committee from the conference on National defense which called at the white house. The committee presented resolutions urging "adequate and quick" increase in every department of the National defenses.

The president said he was certain the people of the Nation wanted the country adequately prepared for defense, although there might be some difference of opinion as to just how to go about the strengthening of the army and navy.

PETER C. WATTS MEETS UNTIMELY DEATH IN NEVADA

Former Resident of Winchester Overcome While Aiding Fire Department.

Peter C. Watts, formerly of Winchester, but more recently of Ely, Nevada, died suddenly while working at a fire last week. Owing to a defect in the hose one had to be drawn by hand from the department to the fire, and while assisting in this Mr. Watts, apparently overcome by the exertion, fell to the sidewalk. Medical aid was immediately summoned and every effort made to restore consciousness but without avail and in a few moments the unfortunate man breathed his last. His wife was with the crowd watching the fire and at once rushed to the side of her husband when he fell and was with him till the last.

His death caused a dreadful shock to the people and few could actually realize that one so recently with them, apparently in perfect health, was dead.

Mr. Watts was a native of Winchester where he lived till some twenty years ago when he removed to Cripple Creek, Colorado and eight years ago he removed to Ely, the place in which he passed away. Two years ago he was married to Miss Marie Moore, a lady of charming personality. In addition to her he leaves four brothers and one sister. He was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the Benevolent and Protective order of Elks. He was well and favorably known where he lived and his funeral was largely attended. A brother who lives in Salt Lake City came to take the body to that place for burial.

SENATOR LEWIS PRAISES THE DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION

Addresses Rally at East St. Louis—States Business is Timorous Because of the Outlook.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 21.—The democratic administration of the federal government was praised by James Hamilton Lewis, United States senator, in a speech at a political rally here tonight. He said that when President Wilson took office five small countries of Europe were at war, the greater nations stood at arms and the Mexican situation threatened open conflict, making the new administration face "surroundings more trying than ever menaced any president since Lincoln."

Senator Lewis said business was timorous because of the outlook and then proceeded to review the new tariff, business legislation and federal reserve bank acts. He argued "the real complaint" against the administration was "well voiced" by resident Vail of the American Telephone and Telegraph company whom he quoted as having said that "what is needed is further prosperity to enable the purchase of corporation securities." Senator Lewis said the state of the securities market was the fault of the manner in which it had been conducted.

"The failure to buy securities is because that class of business men who 'rocked the boat' in order to drown occupants who, they felt, might interfere with the piracy," said the senator. Discussing national preparedness and the acts of the administration regarding European war questions he said: "America wishes no quarrel, she will demand her equality of rights in peace;—she will request the rights of her citizenship in the speech of civilization and in the spirit of religion, but in order to achieve for her country the destiny that belongs to it and her citizens the unalienable right which is his by inheritance from Heaven,—America from this time onward will take whatever course is forced upon her as necessary to secure these privileges to her country and these rights to her citizen. America is achieving all these by intelligent diplomacy."

HORSE BADLY INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE.

Truck of G. T. Douglas Collides With Delivery Horse.

Thursday evening about 6:30 o'clock the automobile truck of George T. Douglas, West State street grocer, collided with the delivery wagon of M. R. Fitch. The horse's head was split open for a distance of about eighteen inches, beginning at a point above the left eye and running around the front of the head. Fortunately the eye was not injured. The accident occurred on Westminster street and Dr. C. E. Scott who resides on that street, had just reached home. He was called and gave the animal temporary treatment with the assistance of residents in the neighborhood. The animal was removed to Dr. Scott's hospital and given further treatment. Dr. Scott said the injured animal was able to eat oats but that it gave indications of internal injury.

There is little known as to how the accident occurred. The vehicles were going in opposite directions. The drivers claimed that it was impossible to see on account of smoke from leaves burning in the vicinity. It is fortunate that neither of the drivers were injured.

Our statistician tells us that baseball has just passed its 70th birthday. It is claimed that the national pastime was first organized in New York City on Sept. 23, 1845. There are other claims made, and many claimants for the first honors.

CONSECRATE SUFFRAGAN BISHOP.

Montclair, N. J., Oct. 21.—Rev. Dr. Wilson B. Stearly, rector of St. Luke's church, Montclair, was today consecrated Suffragan Bishop of the Newark Diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church. Many bishops attended the ceremony which elevated him to his new office. Bishop Edwin S. Lines presided, and the consecration sermon was by Rt. Rev. Dr. Charles D. Williams of Michigan. Dr. Stearly was formerly a pastor at Cleveland, O., and he was unanimously chosen suffragan bishop last May.

The largest sponge ever found was three feet across and ten feet in circumference. It was growing in the Mediterranean.

OLD TIME BATTLES.

They Were Mere Skirmishes When Compared With Modern War.

In the light of modern warfare the old time battles shrink to the proportions of ordinary street brawls. The opposing armies were usually arrayed in lines within hearing of one another. Frequently the actual combat was preceded by an exchange of opprobrious profanity in order to get up the proper sentiment of "holy wrath," which was considered an indispensable element in a soldier's efficiency.

Alexander the Great conquered the orient with only 35,000 men. On a still smaller scale the great battles of Israel appear to have been conducted, as told in the Bible accounts. For instance, in the fight against Gideon the Israelites are said to have suffered severe losses—to wit, thirty men.

The Egyptian army which invaded Palestine and subjugated the whole country counted barely 5,000 soldiers. Saul confronted his Palestine adversaries with an "army" of 600, which in the course of time was increased to 1,000 after the "militarists" of those days had persuaded the authorities to provide a reserve force, a sort of "land storm," of 400 warriors brave and bold.

King David's military establishment did not exceed his predecessor's in numbers. According to the first book of Kings, however, King Ahab must have been pretty much of a war lord, judging by the standard of olden times. In his army were 7,000 soldiers and a constabulary force of 230 men—Argonaut.

EASY COFFEE GROWING.

The Plant Flourishes With Little or No Attention in Haiti.

Coffee, the great staple product of Haiti, the West Indian island, grows with little attention. It supplies the bulk of the revenues of the government, together with the meager demands of the simple peasantry of the mountains and valleys whose business it is, especially the women and children, to gather it and bring it to the seaport towns on their heads and on the backs of donkeys and horses.

This plant is seen on nearly all the uplands and mountain sides of the country, and as the product is easily portable it is brought to market from far and near in all conceivable quantities, from one or two pounds up to 200 pounds, accordingly as it is carried on the head of a child, the back of a horse or in sacks in ox carts.

Notwithstanding that the coffee plant is scarcely cultivated at all it goes on reproducing itself from fallen berries so successfully that the crop only varies from year to year through extraneous influences like a variation in the rainfall—the lack of or too abundant rain near or during the flowering season.—London Telegraph.

Fortifications of New York Harbor.

The narrow approaches to the harbor of New York have made the fortification of it a simpler matter than usual. On Sandy Hook is Fort Hancock, with an artillery garrison; on the Narrows, Fort Wadsworth, artillery garrison; on the Staten Island side, Fort Tompkins; across the Narrows, Fort Hamilton. The older Fort Lafayette, between Forts Hamilton and Wadsworth, is now used as a storehouse. On Governors Island are Fort Jay, infantry, important barracks and the New York arsenal of the ordnance department. Castle Williams is now a military prison. Fort Totten, artillery post, is on Willet's Point, and directly across from this battery is Fort Schuyler. On Sandy Hook is the proving ground of the ordnance department. A signal corps is stationed at Fort Wood, Bedloe's Island.—New York Times.

Information Wanted.

Will some one please give a hint in regard to the whereabouts and the welfare of the family? This honored institution began to disappear a generation or so ago, just about the time that the dissipation of inconveniences attendant upon the rearing of children made families feasible. Ever since the passing away of one room log cabins, abject poverty, home grown wearing apparel and common sense the family has been losing weight and numbers. Its recent complete withdrawal from society has caused grave concern among those who favor the further propagation of the species. If the family will kindly come back and re-establish itself among the race of men no questions will be asked and none answered.—Judge.

No Such Person.

"The trouble with you," her husband said, "is that you make mountains out of molehills."

"I don't do anything of the kind," she replied. "I want you to understand that my mother brought me up to be a lady, and I know nothing at all about housework. I never made a mountain out of a mole hill in my life. I am perfectly helpless in a kitchen."—New York American.

The value of pepper was known of old. We read that when Rome had to be ransomed from the barbarian conqueror in the year 400 Alaric demanded 3,000 pounds of pepper among the payments and that Hippocrates used it in medicine, applying it to the skin.

"Well," replied the bum, "the uppers are lower than the lowers, and the lowers are higher than the uppers."

Sure Way To Get Rid Of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

MURRAYVILLE INSTITUTE ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

are some advantages for the wooden and concrete block types. He does not believe it advisable to construct the silo more than twelve feet wide, and if there is need for more silage than can be thus conveniently stored, he prefers the erection of another silo to the plan of making one of larger diameter than has already been suggested.

Mr. Allen did not confine all of his talk to the question of silage but discussed cattle feeding in a general way and talked to some extent about the advantage of raising and feeding alfalfa as a part of the beef-raising industry. He presented figures to show what a profitable crop alfalfa is in the matter of dollars and cents, without even taking into account the soil fertility obtained by its growth. He declared that alfalfa fed with corn tends to make a balanced ration and gives better results than if the pounds of meat put on than if the corn were fed alone. Figures were given too, to show something of the changes which have taken place in the cattle industry during the last few years. The time was when a fairly good showing could be made without practicing the economics that are now necessary in feeding cattle.

Formerly a great deal of corn was wasted which today with the present price of land and grain, must be taken into account. In feeding, a combination of alfalfa, corn and silage means beef production at the lowest cost. Under some circumstances, too, cottonseed meal must be added to the ration in order to get the best results economically. From the feeder's standpoint, Mr. Allen expressed the belief that the silo had given more help than any other one improvement during recent years. It has been demonstrated time and again that the feeding value of the acreage of corn made into silage is increased a very large per cent. by comparison with the value of the corn and the fodder handled in the old way. In making this comparison due attention is paid to the investment necessary and the additional labor and expense in placing the corn in the silo.

Following the address an opportunity was given for discussion and various questions were asked relating to silos, alfalfa and sweet clover.

Then Roy Clark, who attended the boys' state fair school, read his well written report, which has already been printed in these columns.

Later it was taken to England and was brought from England to America by Mrs. James Newman, who was a great-granddaughter of the original owner. The candlestick is now in the possession of Mrs. Charles Cox, who is a daughter of Mrs. Newman. A twin candlestick is owned by a relative of Mrs. Cox in Colorado and he some time since refused an offer of $250 for it.

A small Irish wall clock known to be 150 years old was exhibited by Miss Bessie Rea. It came originally from the city of Boff, Langford Co., Ireland.

A book printed in 1754 was exhibited by Miss Hazel Armitage, who also exhibited another book 70 years old.

A plate brought from China 150 years ago was shown by Cecil Cunningham.

A solid silver spoon owned by Mrs. Mary Blakeman and inherited from her grandmother was also in the exhibition. It is known to be about 100 years old.

An interesting article in the Murrayville exhibit was a map of the United States made by Miss Dorothy Blakeman. It was of different colored candies rolled flat and joined together in such a way as to show the location of the boundary lines of all the states. There were quite a number of other articles in the heirloom department and all of them added largely to the interest of the whole.

FARMERS OF MORGAN COUNTY TO BE TENDERED A BURGOO

Park Board Holds Important Meeting Last Night. Draining of West Lagoon Discussed.

The park board held its regular meeting last evening and transacted considerable business.

Messrs. Anderson and Gomes were appointed a committee to devise the best plan for a roadway across the east lagoon at the south side of the park and a culvert of concrete which will let through the water that comes down from the adjacent field and report at the next meeting Thursday.

The same gentlemen were appointed a committee with power to act to secure a proper roof over the basement of the band stand where valuable machinery is located.

Carl Weber, on behalf of the chamber of commerce, appeared before the board and asked permission to use central park for a burgoo to be tendered the farmers of the vicinity, probably Nov. 3. It was the decision of the board to have a burgoo instead of the barbecue they had last year.

The board granted permission on condition that the parties be located by the board in such a manner as to do as little damage as possible and farther that the chamber of commerce thoroughly clean up after the burgoo is over. Permission was also given for an exhibition of farm implements similar to the automobile display if weather is favorable.

The matter of draining the west lagoon so as to away with the swampy nature of a considerable quantity of land was brought up informally but it was declared simply useless to consider any such project for lack of means.

It was decided to rake the leaves from Duncan park as soon as all have fallen and to plant a quantity of ornamental shrubbery in that place.

The custodian of Nichols park was instructed to take all means to secure the water system from injury by frost and to remove all the hydrants and cocks and cap the ends of the pipes.

A great many native forest trees are to be set out in Nichols park this fall as soon as the suitable time arrives.

The free use of Nichols park for purposes of playing golf is continued provided those interested keep the leaves removed, the grass cut and the grounds in satisfactory order solely at their own expense.

The park board is greatly hampered by lack of funds owing to the extensive improvements which have been made during the present year and many desired and desirable improvements in Nichols park, Duncan park and the playground will have to be deferred on that account. The members of the park board have labored diligently and have done their best with the means at their disposal and their hearts would be immensely delighted if some public spirited citizen or citizens would add a few thousands to the park treasury.

The Age of Youth

This is the Age of Youth. Men of all ages are living in closer relationship. You hear very little of old fashioned ideas. Fathers are thinking as their sons; they are playing the same games—they are DRESSING more alike.

That is why Society Brand Clothes are so popular now. They show a dignified conservative touch of YOUTHFULNESS. They make men look as young as they OUGHT to look today. They make men of 40 look 35 instead of 45, as was usual. Fads and extremes are abhorred. Yet Society Brand Models lead in exclusiveness. They are widely copied—but no other makers seem able to get their incomparable effects.

These clothes are too slowly and too carefully made—the output is too limited to sell to every store in a city. So there is never more than one merchant in a town who can offer these designs. But that merchant is carefully selected.

TELEGRAM SAYS JUDGE THOMPSON NOT IN HOSPITAL

Jacksonville Citizen Had Minor Operation at Los Angeles But Was Not Delayed in Travels.

Wild rumors were flying about the streets Thursday afternoon of the critical illness of Judge Owen P. Thompson in Los Angeles, Cal. Reports were to the effect that Judge Thompson had undergone an operation and was in a critical condition. The Chicago Tribune even wired Paul P. Thompson, son of Judge Thompson that his father had died.

Judge Thompson left Illinois some time ago with other members of the Illinois State Utilities commission for a trip to California. This trip was made for the purpose of attending a national meeting of the members of state utility commissions from all over the United States. When Judge Thompson left he was suffering from a cold and it is thought by his son, Paul, that it finally culminated in a gathering in the head which necessitated a minor operation.

Paul P. Thompson received a message from his father after the rumors began flying to the effect that he had had trouble with his ear but that there was nothing serious. Later Dr. P. C. Thompson, brother of Judge Thompson, received a telegram stating that Judge Thompson had not even been in the hospital. The many friends of Judge Thompson will be glad to learn that the rumors of his critical illness were not true.

Paul P. Thompson received a telegram Thursday night from Walter Shaw saying that newspaper reports of Judge Thompson's illness were false and that the Judge spent Thursday sightseeing.

FRANKLIN STILL FIGHTING TO BE AN AUTOMOBILE ROUTE

Townsmen Boosting for "The Better Way" Which Will Give Outlet to Peoria and Other Central Illinois Towns.

The Franklin citizens will not be downed when it comes to boosting for an automobile highway and while they lost out in the recent trail blazed from Greenfield, they have espoused the cause of "The Better Way." The Franklin Times in speaking of the auto trail says:

"Hurrah for 'The Better Way'—the orange and red auto trail which, springing from the Springfield way agitation of last summer, is soon to be blazed from St. Louis to Peoria, passing through Scottville, Franklin, Alexander and Ashland, northward by the Old Salem chautauqua grounds to Peoria, and placing us on a route second to none in Illinois, and one bound to find favor with the traveling public.

"If the plans of the promoters are carried out, at Peoria the trail will connect with 'The Scenic Way' and traverse the Illinois river valley past the famous Starved Rock state park to Ottawa, making a popular route between the great cities of St. Louis and Chicago, for the Illinois river valley is celebrated for its beautiful scenery and historic memories, and with a well marked trail leading southward can offer attractions to tourists unsurpassed on Illinois highways.

"John Votsmier, president of the Peoria and St. Louis Highway association, and Dr. F. H. Mearns were in Springfield Monday for the purpose of receiving the certificate of organization and the official colors of 'The Better Way' which will be orange and red, two broad stripes of orange with a band of red in the middle.

"The successful outcome of the good roads agitation is another indication of the 'never say die' spirit which exists in this community and the orange and red will herald to the state at large the hustling enterprise of our citizenship."

The Ebenezer Ladies' Aid will serve an oyster supper in the basement of the Church Friday evening.

BAPTISTS AT AURORA HAVING SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Larger Number of Delegates Are in Attendance Than Last Year and Interest Marked.

Jacksonville has a number of delegates in attendance at the Baptist convention in Aurora. A delegate was written of the meeting as follows:

The Baptists of Illinois now in convention session at Aurora are having an unusually successful assembly. The number of delegates is much larger than last year and there is an intense enthusiasm and interest prevailing. At the suggestion of the Rev. Percy W. Stephens, of Jacksonville, a mass open air rally was held Tuesday evening for an hour before the evening session. Dr. J. M. Dean, of Chicago, chairman of the committee on evangelism, was in charge. About seventy-five ministers accompanied by many laymen, one of whom was a railroad president, marched through the streets, and, with the permission of the mayor held two meetings. The Illinois Baptist male voice quartet sang and Mr. Stephens was one of the speakers. There were nine conversions that evening. A similar meeting was held Wednesday evening and that feature will probably become an annual item of the program of the convention.

Woman's Baptist Mission.

The Woman's Baptist Mission society of Illinois held its annual meeting on Tuesday at the Park Place Baptist church of Aurora, the First Baptist church not being big enough to accommodate the whole convention including the woman's society.

Mrs. W. P. Topping presided and the music was led by Mrs. W. E. Francis. In the absence of Mrs. B. E. Allen, of Neponset, the closing address of the morning session was given by Mrs. Percy W. Stephens, of Jacksonville. The topic assigned Mr. Stephens was "God's Work," and the text selected was "We are workers together with God." Mrs. Stephens gave a helpful and inspiring message, which proved to be a fitting close to the morning program. About four hundred ladies attended the meeting.
